

Name _____ Class _____ Date _____

1 You would most likely find an editorial printed in a _____.

A book of poems
 B children's picture book
 C newspaper
 D cookbook

2 Persuasive writing is explaining how to complete something.

A true
 B false

3 If you include a quote from a famous person in your paper, you do not have to give the citation.

4 When writing a book report, you can include a description of the book's plot, theme, setting,

5

PREVIEW

Please Sign In or Sign Up to download the printable version of this worksheet

7 book he had read. This is an example of _____.

A a debate
 B an oral report
 C a school play
 D a persuasive essay

8 stores. He was grumpy, like a grumpy bear who had been asleep too long.

This story could be published in _____.

A a personal journal
 B an atlas
 C a history textbook
 D a storybook

9 Parson, Alexander. Amazing Spiders. New York: Knopf, 1990.

This is an example of _____.

A a person's address
 B Alexander's favorite book
 C a research citation
 D an outline

10 If you are participating in a book discussion and you do not understand what another group member is saying, what should you do?

A Sit quietly until it becomes more interesting.
 B Bring up a new topic.
 C Tell the person he/she is foolish.
 D Ask the person to state their idea in another way.

Name _____ Class _____ Date _____

1 You would most likely find an editorial printed in a _____.

- A book of poems
- B children's picture book
- C newspaper
- D cookbook

2 Persuasive writing is explaining how to complete something.

A true B false

3 If you include a quote from a famous person in your paper, you do not have to give the citation.

4 When writing a book report, you can include a description of the book's plot, theme, setting,

PREVIEW

Please Sign In or Sign Up to download the printable version of this worksheet

7 book he had read. This is an example of _____.

- A a debate
- B an oral report
- C a school play
- D a persuasive essay

8 stores. He was grumpy, like a grumpy bear who had been asleep too long.

This story could be published in _____.

- A a personal journal
- B an atlas
- C a history textbook
- D a storybook

9 Parson, Alexander. Amazing Spiders. New York: Knopf, 1990.

This is an example of _____.

- A a person's address
- B Alexander's favorite book
- C a research citation
- D an outline

10 If you are participating in a book discussion and you do not understand what another group member is saying, what should you do?

- A Sit quietly until it becomes more interesting.
- B Bring up a new topic.
- C Tell the person he/she is foolish.
- D Ask the person to state their idea in another way.