

Name _____ Class _____ Date _____

1 A student should review his/her reading purpose during reading.

2 During reading, successful readers make _____ between what is being read and his/her own life.

- A provisions
- B predictions
- C connections
- D revisions

3 After reading, the successful reader should pause and think about what he/she has just read. This step in the reading process

4 A kind, or type, of literature is called a _____.

PREVIEW

Please Sign In or Sign Up to download the printable version of this worksheet

7 between the lines, refers to making _____.

- A an interference
- B a reflection
- C an inference
- D a preposition

of seventh grade students with her hands on her hips and a stern look on her face. You can infer that the principal is _____.

- A overjoyed
- B angry
- C elated
- D happy

9 When successful readers put facts together in order to determine conclusions, it is known as drawing conclusions.

True or false?

- A true
- B false

10 A teenaged girl wearing a swimsuit is walking toward an outdoor pool. Walking next to her holding her hand is a toddler in a swimsuit. The reader can draw the conclusion that the teenager and the toddler are going to the zoo.

True or false?

- A true
- B false

Name _____ Class _____ Date _____

1 A student should review his/her reading purpose during reading.

2 During reading, successful readers make _____ between what is being read and his/her own life.

- A provisions
- B predictions
- C connections
- D revisions

3 After reading, the successful reader should pause and think about what he/she has just read. This step in the reading process

4 A kind, or type, of literature is called a _____.

PREVIEW

Please Sign In or Sign Up to download the printable version of this worksheet

7 _____ between the lines, refers to making _____.

- A an interference
- B a reflection
- C an inference
- D a preposition

of seventh grade students with her hands on her hips and a stern look on her face. You can infer that the principal is _____.

- A overjoyed
- B angry
- C elated
- D happy

9 When successful readers put facts together in order to determine conclusions, it is known as drawing conclusions.

True or false?

- A true
- B false

10 A teenaged girl wearing a swimsuit is walking toward an outdoor pool. Walking next to her holding her hand is a toddler in a swimsuit. The reader can draw the conclusion that the teenager and the toddler are going to the zoo.

True or false?

- A true
- B false

