

Name _____ Class _____ Date _____

1 A predator is an organism that hunts and kills another organism.

2 What is prey?
A a species that can run very fast
B a species that can see very well
C an organism that is brightly colored
D an organism that is caught and killed by another organism

3 Predators _____ to become better hunters to survive. Prey also _____ to help them avoid

4 What is an adaptation that a predator is likely have?

PREVIEW

Please Sign In or Sign Up to download the printable version of this worksheet

7 _____
A both benefit
B one species lives on or within another and causes harm
C one species benefits and the other is neither helped nor harmed
D both species compete for food

_____ the species in which both species benefit from the relationship.

A true
B false

9 Parasitism means _____
A both species benefit
B one species lives on or within another and causes harm
C one species benefits and the other is neither helped nor harmed
D both species are harmed

10 A mosquito feeds on human blood and could potentially give the human a virus or disease. In this parasitic relationship, who is the host?

A mosquito
B human
C both
D neither

Name _____ Class _____ Date _____

1 A predator is an organism that hunts and kills another organism.

2 What is prey?
A a species that can run very fast
B a species that can see very well
C an organism that is brightly colored
D an organism that is caught and killed by another organism

3 Predators _____ to become better hunters to survive. Prey also _____ to help them avoid

4 What is an adaptation that a predator is likely have?

PREVIEW

Please Sign In or Sign Up to download the printable version of this worksheet

7 _____
A both benefit
B one species lives on or within another and causes harm
C one species benefits and the other is neither helped nor harmed
D both species compete for food

_____ the species in which both species benefit from the relationship.

A true
B false

9 Parasitism means _____
A both species benefit
B one species lives on or within another and causes harm
C one species benefits and the other is neither helped nor harmed
D both species are harmed

10 A mosquito feeds on human blood and could potentially give the human a virus or disease. In this parasitic relationship, who is the host?

A mosquito
B human
C both
D neither

